Created by the International Union of Architects in 1985, World Architecture Day is celebrated annually on the first Monday of October in parallel with the United Nations World Habitat Day.

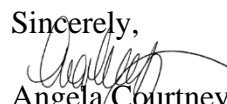

Alex Foundation's World Architecture Day observance this year will include a presentation on merging architecture and fashion. The fashion show of the year will be moderated by University of Arkansas, Fay Jones School of Architecture and Design (FJSOA) Associate Dean, Ethel Goodstein-Murphee. The fashion show, styled by Belk, will present architects from across the State of Arkansas modelling the latest runway apparel and ready to wear couture. The architects, as models, range of expertise includes historic preservation, healthcare, higher education, K-12 education, civic, corporate, security, among others.

Alex Foundation will also recognize individuals and organizations supporting its mission driven work.

A 501 C 3 tax exempt nonprofit organization, Alex Foundation's mission is to engage students, and specifically limited access and rural students in exploring architecture and design through place-based learning, experiential learning, project-based learning, and multi-disciplinary learning.
